

ELA/Literacy
Released Item 2017

Grade 03
Narrative Task
What Happens Afterward
0880

Today you will view First Music. As you watch, pay close attention to the actions of the characters as you answer the questions to prepare to write a narrative story.

Watch the video of the story First Music. Then answer the questions.

First Music

"First Music" from Story Cove. Copyright © by Story Cove. Used by permission of Marian Reiner.

- 5. Write a story that tells what happens after the events in the video. What do the animals do after they learn they can play together? Describe what the animals do and how the different animals each help.

Anchor Set

A1 – A8

No Annotations Included

The animals were so happy that the frogs sang, so they decided to make a band, and they wanted to ask if the frogs wanted to join, but they didn't know where the frogs went. (after he sang and prayed they went somewhere else) So they searched and searched and searched for frog, there was when the trouble started they found a mountain and rocks began to roll because a hippo was up there and didn't want them to come up! so they climbed to find their friend, the frogs, and they said to each other and said " wait!!!! If the hippo is making rocks roll how would the frog get up there?" So they went down and searched all the way till the end of the rain forest, and they decided to go back and sleep and look at the pond again in the morning. So everyday they did the same thing look around the forest ( not the same places) and then ate and searched again till dinner and they ate dinner and went to bed, then looked at the pond in the morning. They decided to stop looking after 2 (two) months." where is frog?" asked monkey. So they decided to go and see the animal library ( animals only!!!!)(was the sigh) and they went in and got a frog book and the librarian said " keep it for free." The other librarians said " we are closing any books you want keep them!" so they took some books in a bag and said " thank you", and they went home and read the book. The book said that frogs only last about 1 year. The animals said " WHAT!!!!!!!!!!!" They were all sad. So they decided to not make a band without the frogs. so they went to the pond and there underneath the pond was..... the frogs!!!! The frogs said at the same time " did you miss us??" "Yes!!!!" Said the animals. So they told frog about the band idea and frog loved the idea and so he said " yes!" So they practiced and practiced and practiced and practiced until they got it perfect. Frog always said " practice makes perfect" if they were mad when they were practicing!! And they made the library a restaurant and hired some animals to serve, cook, and take their order and sit them. And they were the animals ( in the band) were the entertainers and performed their songs and every time the frogs said " I told you practice makes perfect" And the animals would say " Yep you were right " And the audience always clapped ( even if they messed up)( only once) And that's what they still do. And the animals ( not the frog) would say every year " That book lied the frogs are still alive!!!" And so they were the most popular animals in the jungle city. They all lived in this mansion that the animals built, Everyone was happy in that house and in that restaurant and they lived on music!!! Because this is what their habit.....

Music

TheEnd!

Score

Anchor Paper 1

Written Expression

Score Point 3

Ever since the frogs started to sing there was always a animal playing. They tried to make other animal play a inchshermen t or dance. Frog would say "you could make any sound if you try and belive" but one day there was some one who disgreed and it was mouse. Monkey tried to teach her to dance it was no yous her leg was to tiny. Elphant tried to teach her to play a insherment but she couldn't keep a beet. There was only one thing to do. Take mouse to king frog. King frog knew evry thing. Monkey thought. Mouse come with me and thats what mouse did. What did you try. Croaked the frog. Well we tried dancing and playing a inchsherments. Replied monkey. There is one more thing to try and thats.....singing. Singing? Skeaked the mouse . Yes singing. Answered king frog. Like this. la la la la la. the mouse tried . skeak. That sounded good. Now all animals had a talent!

Score

Anchor Paper 2

Written Expression

Score Point 3

first music the frogs and monkeys and elaphants all in the african forest had a show or contest to see who would be a better musisoin so after the concert the frogs one the singing contest so the other animals were like that terophy should be mine now give it said monkey know give it to me or ill step on you said elephant but us frogs one fair and square how cute now give they all said then a lost dog said you shouldnt seddle this with violence thats wrong how about you all share the trophy and then we all can share it because you all have great voices and then they all agreed with the dog so they all bacame best friends the end

Score

Anchor Paper 3

Written Expression

Score Point 2

There are events from this story, lessons in this story and there are many descriptions about this story. I will tell you all the events and lessons and describing worlds.

deedeede. The animals woke up and heard sound they sounded like music shouted "The animals." Frog said "To follow that sound that sound." they thought in their heads what a astonishing sound that is. They walked to many places. Elan thought this adventure was a piece of cake. This paragraph shows the event about the animal finding the sound.

The animals just notice that music is exceedingly fun. Elan said that we thought that we hated music and we thought that music is not fun but we know that music comes to having fun. I guess that we ignore what people said about music and we should of listen to the really world. Guess music always fun on madery what happens.

The animals just learned that music is fun when every one is here. The Monkey yelled "let's do some music!"

In conclusion, music can be very fun.

Score

Anchor Paper 4

Written Expression

Score Point 2

The elephant could play harder and the music would be louder.

The monkey could dance more and the others animals would be dancing.

The crane could move harder on crocdials scales and the sound would be louder. The animals could ask the frogs if they could do somthing.

The animalswould make muisic all the time .

THE END.

Score

Anchor Paper 5

Written Expression

Score Point 1

First the animals are singing till the seventh day. Then on the seventh day the frogs sang. Last all the animals sang and danced and the African contry was beautiful and loving! They become the best of friends forever. Monkey was cerious. All the animals animals get along. Just fine! All the animals have fun dancing and being together. They played and danced so hard that day the earth shook! Everybody had fun. Even the frogs did. They were cerious at the begining and in the middle happy. At the end they were cerious again and happy at the way end. I think this story was funny and magical! Because the animals could talk and sing. The animals are very nice to each other i can tell they all have a family

Score

Anchor Paper 6

Written Expression

Score Point 1

After I heard First Music by Dylan Pritchett i know one reason that they learned to play music together. They learned that they can work together even though the frogs can not dance the can sing it does not matter if you are small or not strong does not mean you can sing and have faith for people and say that they sing good to make them feel good about them selves. That was my story and my reason i hope you all like it.

Score

Anchor Paper 7

Written Expression

Score Point 0

They play music all night long and all day long and every day for a week a day non stop.

Score

Anchor Paper 8

Written Expression

Score Point 0

Practice Set
P101 - P105

No Annotations Included

Every saturday the animals come together to play music, dance and sing. Elephant plays a hollow log with his front feet. Monkey sways from side to side. Crane slides on crocodile's back, and the frogs sing in their special way. But one night the trees join in. Everyone and everything in that forest loves to make music.

The other animals love their music so much that they all agreed that the frogs could get a solo. All agreed except the elephant. " This is an outrage. I'm the one who started this whole thing. If it wasn't for me, we could've never had this symphony. So if anything, I should get the solo." The elephant would exclaim whenever the frogs did their solo. No matter how much he cried, yelled and screamed, it made the animals not want to help the elephant out. In fact they were thinking about kicking the elephant out of the symphony because of his actions. Then the lion tries to get the elephant the solo by threatening to hurt the frogs. The lion was doing it for money. When the elephant asked the lion to sabotage the frogs the lion said "How about you give me three hundred thousand dollars." But the elephant did not have enough money to give to the lion. The elephant had a secret plan to get all the animals to turn on the frogs so that he would get the solo. But secretly the lion knew that he was being double crossed, so he warned the frogs. He knew it was wrong, but sometimes you have to do bad things to help people/animals. The animals made arrangements for solos. On the banner, it said NO GREEDY ELEPHANTS! because they knew what was going to happen. The frogs sang beautifully, the hyena screeched gracefully, the crane slid carefully, and the elephant did terrible. All was well until the show. The elephant threw rotten tomatoes, dead cabbages, half eaten apples ect. It didn't bother the frogs. The stuff always missed them. To get back at the greedy elephant, they threw all the stuff he tried to hit them with, they threw everything right back at him and never missed him. The frogs aim was incredible. The elephant learned a lesson that day. Never try to sabotage anything, it will only blow up in your face.

In the beginning of the story elephant kept hitting a log with his foot and it sounded like music. They danced all together. Then one day it was so quiet. Nobody played music. Then to help the frogs made music with their mouth. All the animals except the frogs looked at the frogs in a rude way.

After a little changes all the animals liked the music again. The animals learned that they each have their own talent.

The animals are making music and are dancing. Each animal are different because they make different sound and beats.

Now that the animals are friends, the frogs practice singing, the elephant hits his foot on the log, the monkey dances to the music, and the crane slides across the scales on the alligator's back. Then one day they had a concert and they invited all the music teachers they knew. "We need a human's touch of love for our music," said the elephant to the group. "But my dance isn't music?" stammered the monkey. (The elephant had figured this was going to happen) The elephant didn't answer but it was OK because the music teachers loved the music and made them famous. They were always friends and everyone always loved their music. THE END!

Practice Set

(Order of Scores: Written Expression, Conventions)

Paper	Score
P101	2,2
P102	3,3
P103	1,2
P104	0,1
P105	2,3