Whether it's taking an hour or two out of my day to go and cook dinner at the

00:10

Ronald McDonald house or to go sing at a Senior Center, however how it makes people feel it makes me feel even better.

00:15

00:24

Sasha has been a volunteer with Ronald McDonald house for three years now and each year she has stepped up and taking on more responsibility. Each year she has another meaningful experience that becomes her favorite and she's so excited to share that. Her friends and her family and the other teen ambassadors just did an outstanding donation drive at a local elementary school where they collected two packed car fills of goods for our families.

00:28

00:33

00:36

00:40

00:44

00:49

Granola bars and toilet paper and shampoo, just basic everyday items that are gonna go so far to making a mom and dad feel welcome here at the Ronald

00:54

00:57

McDonald House. We just can't say enough great things about Sasha and her enthusiasm for what we do. So when I first met her she worked with Children's 01:05

01:01

Miracle Network. I've seen her work at the homeless shelters. She's organized blood drives for United Blood Services. I noticed that Sasha is very great about offering up techniques and helping out students when they might not know something, especially in the drama setting. She has in the past participated

01:09

01:16

01:21

01:26

with the school's unified sports team which brings students from different

01:30

sports athletic abilities, different intellectual abilities and brings them together to build relationships and have fun. So she spent selfless hours at the hospital and then raising money for Children's Miracle Network and mentoring

01:34

01:39

01:43

other young people to make sure they aspire to high goals and then achieve them. Sasha is a force to be reckoned with, so I know that whatever she does

01:47

01:52

she's gonna be so successful and I cannot wait to see her on Broadway one day. Wherever I can volunteer, you know, if there's gonna be a Ronald 01:58

01:55

McDonald House somewhere else I hope maybe I can be involved there too because it touched my heart so much.

02:01
