APS FOUNDATION GIFT IMPACT FINANCIAL INFORMATION

LETTERS FROM THE PRESIDENTS

JOE VARRO

Hello! It was a busy and exciting 2017-2018 school year. Thanks to generous supporters like yourselves, the APS Education Foundation (the "Foundation") awarded over $570,000 that went directly into classrooms and impacted over 130,000 students! This money was used to fund grants that support impactful programs across the school district, such as rewarding academic progress and good attendance. Also, these grants helped fund projects for Fine Arts, STEM, and Literacy just to name a few.

The Foundation plays an important role in achieving student success. I had the pleasure of visiting classrooms and witnessing firsthand the positive impact that our grant dollars provided. My wife and I are proud parents of an APS graduate and currently have a junior attending APS. Please join us in providing support to the Foundation and make a difference in a student's life. Investing in our children will make our community and state a better place! Thank you,

Joseph F. Varro Jr.

Joe Varro
Current President, 2018

A YEAR TO REMEMBER

ADRIAN CHAVEZ

For those who don't know me, my name is Adrian Chavez with Pepsi Beverages Company. I was extremely fortunate to have served as President of the Albuquerque Public Schools Education Foundation for the 2017 calendar year. As a proud graduate of APS, a parent of a graduate & current APS student and an advocate for public education I was excited to be able to support this Foundation in every way I could.

I am happy to report that throughout the year this Foundation was able to raise funds to continuously support the many grants that are available to teachers and schools. It is these grants that give our family of educators within APS the opportunity to get some creative teaching methods off the ground.

I would be remiss if I didn't mention the unbelievably talented group of individuals that make up this board. These volunteers give their time, sweat and equity for the one common goal which is to provide opportunities for the 84,000 students of Albuquerque Public Schools. Each of our board members come from different backgrounds and they all believe that in order for our community to thrive, we need strong public education. They believe that in the classroom, our teachers play a critical role and they strive to find new ways to inspire young minds. Above that, they trust this Foundation has the absolute best intentions of supporting innovative teaching techniques that could reshape the learning experience for so many wonderful students.

This was a year to celebrate so many accomplishments and I hope you have had the opportunity to witness the many wonderful things the Albuquerque Public Schools Education Foundation makes possible.

Sincerely,

Adrian Chavez

Adrian Chavez
Past President, 2017

CELEBRATE

STUDENT BOARD MEMBER RONJA STEINBACH

From kindergarten to high school, Albuquerque Public Schools has been my home. Experiencing the struggles of both being a student in the school system and having an APS educator in the family has made me respect the work of the APSEF Board of Directors even more. The Foundation is a phenomenal organization and serving as one of the student board members has been a huge honor. I have enjoyed getting to be a part of the positive change that we are bringing to the district, and I have learned a tremendous amount about our schools, teachers, and students alike. It is easy to see the problems that exist in APS, but the Foundation is a constant reminder that it is more important to look past those problems and instead to see the potential of our school system, along with our successes. Being a member of the Disbursement Committee especially, has shown me how passionate people in our community are about education and how many amazing ideas exists that are just waiting to be implemented at our schools. From hundreds to even thousands of students, to a single success story, the Board of Directors with the Foundation works exceptionally hard to help every single student. Education is the foundation on which the future relies. Public education is therefore the gateway to a better future and I could not be more proud to work with the people on the Board, who realize the importance and the possibilities that the future holds.

The nation’s only annual study and ranking of K-12 education foundations has ranked

18th in the NATION

Third consecutive year the Foundation has ranked in the top 20.

the study: Stepping UP: The Nation’s Top K-12 Education Foundations

Includes education foundations in 200 of the country’s largest school districts (by student population) as well as other top-performing foundations in smaller school districts.

Stepping Up looks at eight key performance categories to determine the foundation ranking:

- 1 annual revenues
- 2 revenues per student
- 3 total assets
- 4 assets per student
- 5 investment income
- 6 total program expenses
- 7 expenses per student
- 8 human capital (volunteers)

“The industry continues to grow, with the study’s more than 200 foundations holding more than one-half billion in assets and raising almost $400 million,” said Dewey Caruthers, study author and president of The Caruthers Institute that conducts the study, noting “top-performing K-12 education foundations are most often led by the top local business, community and education leaders.”

TEACHER IMPACT

TEACHER IMPACT KATHRYN JAMES

"The MakerSpace at Sombra Del Monte Elementary School has become my passion in education. Every child deserves the resources and the opportunities to explore, learn and build. When students engage with science through open-ended and play-based learning, they start to see themselves as the future of science. As teachers continue to rejoice in the opportunities the MakerSpace creates with their students, I see a movement growing. Thank you for this opportunity. You have impacted learning in our school." – Kathryn James

TEACHER IMPACT CHRISTINA NUNEZ

"In my experience as a teacher I have found most students are proficient when it comes to social technology but have not developed academic technology skills. Students tend to struggle to think critically, work collaboratively, and communicate with each other using technology. Our goal at 7 Bar Elementary School was to identify innovative ways to engage students in instruction and incorporate technology into their learning. The more we researched the cost of these ideas we came to realize that we had no funds to make these plans a reality. Thankfully we submitted our ideas as a project that was funded by the APS Education Foundation. The students harnessed the tools to not only learn, but to also become the teachers and presenters of the curriculum. With your generosity and commitment to our project we not only met our goals for our students, but we were also able to surpass them."

PASSION IN EDUCATION

DONOR IMPACT TAMMY GRADY THORNTON

"As a family, education has been a priority. We learned from an early age to value our teachers and the efforts they make each day to create a better world one kid at a time."

We work closely with our vendors and suppliers to build charity homes united in one common goal....to help the community. Giving to the APS Education Foundation is, and continues to be, a strong focus at RayLee Homes. We know that APS serves the vast majority of children in the community and we want to do our part to support and supplement those efforts as often as possible."

Supporting APS is a guaranteed return on investment and our partners at RayLee Homes agree. We encourage all local and large business to consider making their next investment in the children of Albuquerque."

STUDENT IMPACT JUAN CLARK

"The Near Space Challenge presented me with an opportunity to participate in an event that most would never dream of doing in their lifetime. The Near Space Challenge has fueled my interest in becoming a mechanical engineer. A few years ago, I was in the hospital receiving treatment because I was diagnosed with Acute Lymphoblastic Leukemia. Due to the treatment, my energy level was low and my motor skills were very poor. Thanks to this program, I had one more reason to keep fighting. Being able to get some hands-on experience not only helped expand my knowledge, but also helped me get back my motor skills and many other things the treatment had messed up. The Near Space Challenge gave a challenge for my brain after the treatment and an opportunity to learn something that I've been interested in for many years. I'm very grateful for this program and the chance to compete in The Near Space Challenge."

– Juan Clark, West Mesa High School

CHALLENGE OF A LIFETIME

SELFLESS SENIORS

APS EDUCATION FOUNDATION

The APS Education Foundation celebrated 10 years of Selfless Seniors in 2018. For the past decade, photographer Frank Frost has partnered with the Foundation to recognize seniors in high school who have selflessly given back to their communities, usually without recognition or praise. These young adults have already made a difference in their schools and neighborhoods and inspire their peers and all of us to do the same.

DARE TO MAKE A DIFFERENCE

RECOGNITIONS & EVENTS

The annual Gold Bar Gala raises dollars for innovative programs in APS schools funded through the APS Education Foundation's grants programs. Presented in 2018 by Award Sponsors Comcast, RayLee Homes: A New Generation and Technology Integration Group, the gala also serves to recognize outstanding individuals who have made an impact in public education during their time as students and educators in our schools, including Selfless Seniors and APS Hall of Honor inductees. The event culminated with the announcement of the Best In Class winner, chosen by an online vote prior to the event. The Best In Class recipient is a grantee who has improved student outcomes with their innovative program funded by Foundation donors. In 2018, the Gold Bar Gala raised over $70,000 to spread the spark of innovation to other schools in the 2018-19 school year.

Since 2012, the Superintendent's Cup presented by B&D Industries has raised needed funds for APS classroom and school grants by bringing together business leaders from across the region for a great game of golf. The 2017 Superintendent's Cup hosted 232 golfers and more than 30 volunteers who together raised over $60,000 for the Foundation's grant programs.

Throughout the school year, the APS Education Foundation hosts Latte and Learns or Lunch and Learns at APS schools that have received grant funding. These field trips to schools host a small number of donors and community partners allowing them to see their investments with the Foundation in action. Guests are able to meet with administrators, staff, teachers and students as well as members of the Foundation Board of Directors to learn more about new programs and projects, to ask questions and to share ideas.

Pepsi, in partnership with the APS Education Foundation, recognizes an APS teacher each month for their outstanding contribution to the classroom, school, and community.

OUTSTANDING CONTRIBUTION

HALL OF HONOR
APS EDUCATION FOUNDATION

The Albuquerque Public Schools Education Foundation, with the support of the district, announces their Hall of Honor Inductees at the Gold Bar Gala. The Hall of Honor is now an annual recognition of the sustaining legacy of those who gave their careers to public education and made a difference in the lives of those they worked with. For more than a century, APS has been central to the growth of our community – in large part, thanks to the tireless contributions from those in schools and departments who went the extra mile to improve the lives of our students.

In 2018, Mary Ann Anderson and Mark Shea were inducted to the Hall of Honor.

Albuquerque Public Schools has been served by a host of innovators, mentors and trailblazers that made a difference in the lives they touched. They continue to make a difference in the lives of students every day because of the changes they spearheaded to make the district a better place to work and learn.

BEST & OUTSTANDING

OUTSTANDING CORPORATE PARTNER

ALLIANCE DATA

Each year the Foundation recognizes philanthropy in the corporate community at the Gold Bar Gala. At the April 2018 gala, Alliance Data was recognized as the Outstanding Corporate Partner. Why did Alliance Data decide to support the Foundation financially? They genuinely care and support the interests and passions of their associates, which is giving back to the communities in which they live and work. They are encouraged to support their favorite charities and are committed to giving to organizations that are making a big impact in three areas of focus- children, hunger and education.

Alliance Data recognizes schools are in need of funding necessary towards educating children. They reached out to United Way to find a program that was underserved and were introduced to the APS Education Foundation. Moved by the Community Literacy Mentor Program at Manzano Mesa Elementary, they decided to expand this opportunity and fund an additional school, Governor Bent Elementary.

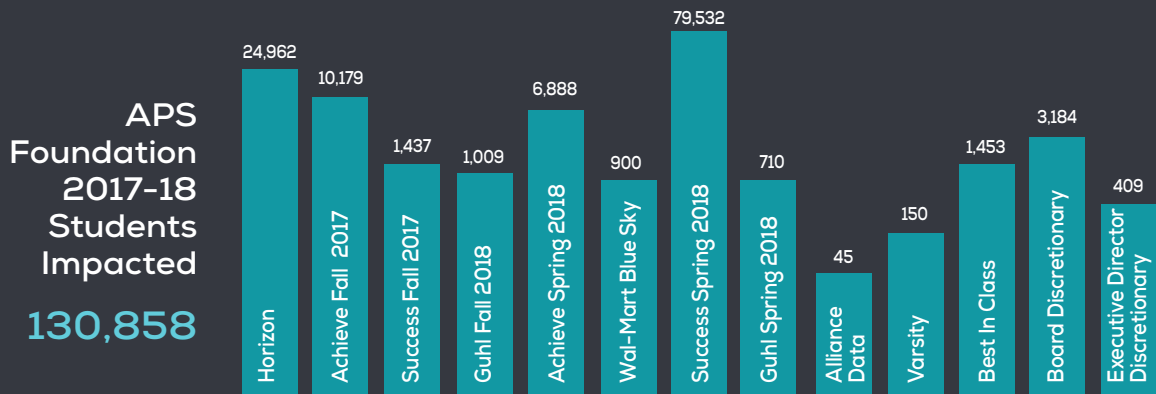

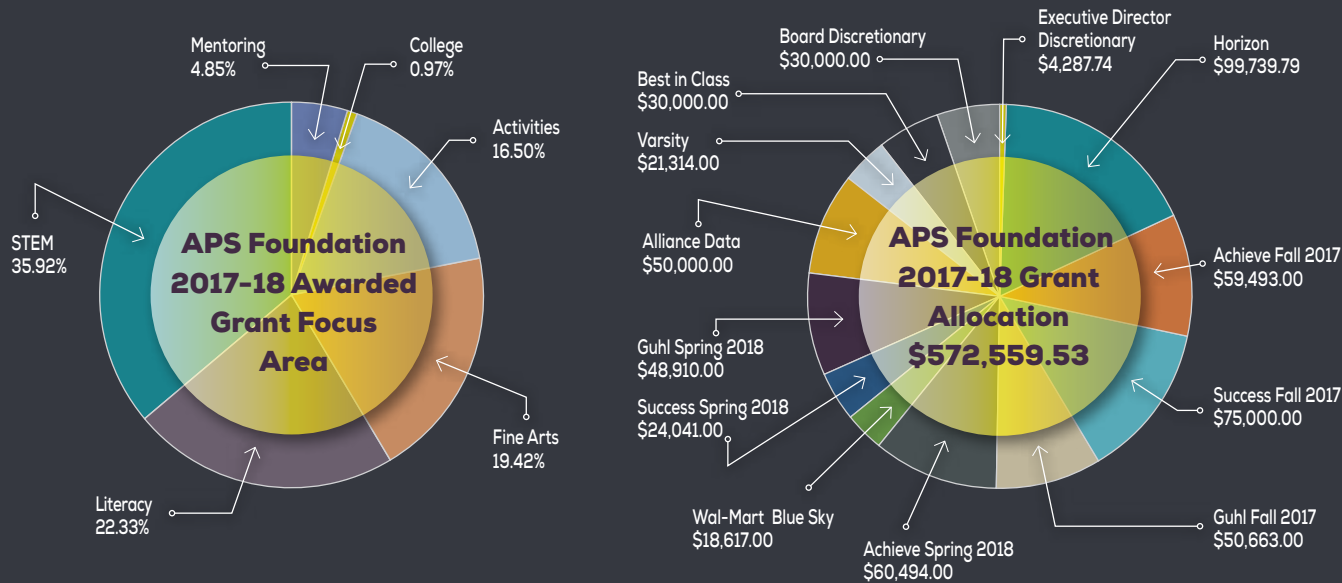

"Bringing APS and the Alliance Data community together to address a need in our school system is inspiring. It allows the community to be a part of the solution. We are excited to expand the efforts of the APS Education Foundation by supporting the Community Literacy Mentor Program," said Dinah Garcia Tolley, Sr. Director of Operations at Alliance Data's card services business.

The APS Education Foundation has so many community partners who deserve to join Alliance Data in this honor of Outstanding Corporate Sponsor. "We are always amazed at the many instances that someone hears about a need in APS and they simply fill it with true inspiration to make a difference," said, Shannon Barnhill the Foundation's Executive Director.

This is an honor reserved for educators, administrators and project leads who were awarded Foundation grants and took that investment to pave the way for a successful future for their students. There were three nominees, and the community had a chance to vote for the grant project to win!
